A J & M Gleave and Son One Week Work Experience as a Fencing Installer

Background:

Originally starting out as dairy farmers, A J & M Gleave and Son is a family business and diversified into fencing contracting eight years ago, specialising in installing agricultural, equestrian and commercial fencing. We also provide some agricultural contracting, with regards to grass and maize silage harvesting as well as contract relief milking.,

What's on offer:

We will provide one week's work for someone to help assist with various fencing projects. As well as being out in the field, you will be given the option to travel with our contracts manager to help quote and walk future project sites.

Further opportunities will be given to experience our agricultural contacting side, from some tractor driving and relief milking. This is a good way of gaining experience and being able to relate back to our customers needs.

What are we looking for:

- We are looking for an individual who is willing to work as part of a team, as well as an individual using their initiative.
- You need to have a good work ethic, be willing to get your hands dirty as all members of the team get stuck in when needed.
- Most importantly you need a sense of humour, but also the right attitude in the correct situations especially in front of customers.
- Must be time conscious, and turn up at the right time. This is critical, as time management is a big part of this business.
